

Contemporary Begins With The Classic European

Mark Alexander, a master of not only stunning Contemporary furniture designs but beautiful Classic pieces as well. If you can master the Classic furniture designs then you can master the Contemporary. Mark even has the ability to blend Classic and Contemporary together in a balanced and sophisticated design to suit the unique requirements of his clientele.

Contemporary Design is the Classics with the Colour stripped away

Personal comfort was a high priority and as Mark oversees each project and design he personally quality tested and adapted the sofa and armchair designs to personally suit the unique brief from the client. Mark Alexander Design undertakes the same personal design process for every individual client.

Australian Manufacturing Designer

Each of these beautifully sophisticated Classic designs has been personally sketched, planned and produced in Australia to suit the client and her requirements. Mark believes that it is incredibly important to support Australian manufacturing and labor, we pride ourselves on delivering quality custom made Australian furniture pieces to our clientele.

Mastering the Classics

When you master stunning Classical designs, the Contemporary movement and colour becomes very easy to do. Mark Alexander has not only produced stunning Classic and Contemporary designs but also can blend and balance the two perfectly. Are the European and English colour schemes not popular anymore with the way that they can blend and mix 12 to 14 colours or do we just have designers who are not able to produce something like this? Designers who only push the minimal design and neutral colour palette onto their clients.
